

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT (R&D) TECHNICIAN

Type of position: Permanent contract with probationary

MISSION

Leading a specific activity concerning product qualification and prototype and manufacturing processes for prototypes and serial production.

Main tasks:

- Participating in the industrialisation of a product or process with the industrialisation department;
- Participating in the development and manufacture of prototypes;
- Carrying out tests in the prototype and development phase and exploit the results;
- Taking charge of actions between the project managers/technical experts and the production workshop and test laboratory;
- Writing technical specifications for production with the industrialization department;
- Support in the drafting of purchasing specifications;
- Support in product design and CAD drawing;
- Support with the industrialization department in the creation of technical data in the ERP (range, bill of materials, etc.);
- Participating in test plan proposals and studies.

Secondary tasks:

- Participation in progress ideas ;
- Parts expertise (on customer site, feedback after several years of service service...).

Health, Safety and Environment:

- Has the constant concern to improve the company's safety. Proposes any measure in terms of safety to the Management;
- Respects procedures relating to ISO 14001 certification and does everything possible to meet the requirements of this standard.

Quality:

- Follows procedures related to ISO and other applicable company certifications and applicable within the companies and makes every effort to meet the requirements of these standards.

PROFILE

Qualifications

- General mechanical training (Bac +2/ Bac +3)

Skills

- Knowledge of industrial drawing and CAD software (e.g. Solidworks)
- Professional technical English (spoken and written)
- Listening skills / Good communicator
- Team player

To apply, please send your CV and cover letter to the following email address :

anvis.rh@anvisgroup.com

